THE SILVER PARTY OF NEVADA.

The Silver Knight publishes the platform adopted by the Silver Party Convention in this city and commends the patriotic sentiments therein expressed not only to the voters of Nevada but to the voters of the entire country. It says:

"The organization of the Silver party in Nevada blazed the way for the overthrow of the power of the gold combination in American politics. It was an open revolt against the perfidy of the Republican party in dealing with the question of bimetalism, and the stalwart sons of Nevada had already discounted Cleveland as the tool of the gold combination. They plainly recognized that the triumph of the gold combination could only be prevented by a withdrawal from all parties that had fallen under its control. They did not propose to longer play the part of gudgeons by swallowing a gold candidate on a silver platform and then have the power and patronage of the Government used in the interest of gold monopoly and bank rule. Senator Stewart of Nevada was a member of the committee on platform in the Republican National Convention at Minneapolis in 1888. He drafted the plank on the silver question and the convention accepted it, but the gold combination secured the nomination of Harrison and Morton. The silver plank in that platform inspired the Republican voters with the hope that bimetalism would be accomplished through the Republican party under the administration of President Harrison. It will be remembered that a free coinage bill passed the Senate for the first time in 1890, and that through the influence of President Harrison the House of Representatives was prevented from concurring with the Senate. The result was the Sherman law of 1890, which was passed through Congress by Republican votes exclusively. The betrayal of the people by President Harrison made it plain to all intelligent men who were not mere party slaves that the Republican party had fallen into the hands of the gold combination to such an extent that it was hopeless for people to struggle for bimetalism longer in the ranks of that party. It was also plain to the man of ordinary intelligence that the Democratic party was in an equally bad fix, as it presented to the country no Presidential candidates for years except Cleveland, Hill and others of the same ilk. Therefore the citizens of Nevada saw no other course open for free, independent, patriotic men but to withdraw from such parties and organize anew. Hence in the election of 1892 the State of Nevada led off, organizing the Silver party, publishing its platform to the world, and to the credit and honor of that State be it said the Silver party scored a signal triumph. Senator Stewart was returned to the Senate free from obligations to the party that had betrayed its trust in 1890. The example of Nevada stimulated the voters of parties in all the other States, and its influence was very great in shaping the future action of the voters of the country.

"The Silver party has demonstrated a great principle in politics, namely, that a party is a means to an end and not an end itself. Therefore the action of the Silver party of Nevada in supporting the candidates of the Chicago platform proved that its principles were patriotic and consistent. The people of the country will read with much interest the platform recently adopted at Reno."

IS THE "GAZETTE" DAFT?

What in the name of common sense is the matter with the individual who assumes responsibility for the drivel that appears in the Gazette? Has he lost his memory as well as his reason? If not why does he say he is misrepresented by the JOURNAL when the JOURNAL prints without comment what he published last Saturday? Does he imagine that abusing the editor of the JOURNAL disproves the fact that he denied last Tuesday what he printed in the editorial columns of his paper last Saturday? What is the matter with the man anyway?

It is said that President McKinley's message to Congress will be one of the most important which has emanated from a chief executive since the foundation of the Government.

There will be several new departures, the most important of which will be the recommendation for a form of Government for the newly acquired possessions of the Pacific. A Government for Porto Rico will also be recommended. The army will be enlarged and it is probable that the president will act under the advice of General Miles and Hull and increase the standing army to 100,000 men. Another cabinet officer may also be asked for, who will be termed "Secretary of the Colonies."

The New York Democrats met in State Convention at Syracuse yesterday. The attendance was the largest ever seen at a State Convention and the Silver men are well represented. A resolution indorsing the Chicago platform was ruled out of order. The convention without making any nominations adjourned until to-day.

A STORY OF WATSON.

AN OCCASION WHEN THE OLD SEA DOG WANTED TO SWEAR.

Not Being a Profane Man, However, He Gave the Job Which Roused His Wrath to Fuller, the Boon's Mate, and Then Let Events Take Their Course.

John Crittenden Watson does not belong to the list of "cussing officers," yet as a man-o'-war skipper he never had a man of his ship's company without swearing. He was singularly indulgent of the hard swearers forward.

"Hard language helps a man along occasionally," he has been known to say to one of his deck officers upon over-hearing a stream of maledictions from the lips of some old flat foot working at a stubborn job forward, "and it is better for the men to work off their wrath over fouled anchor chains in cuss words than to take it out of each other's hide."

Aboard one of the ships under Watson's command there was an old boat's mate named Fuller, who had the call throughout the whole navy as the champion profane man of the government's line of packets. Fuller never raised his voice when he swore. He would simply stand back and quietly regard the inanimate object of his wrath—a bent belaying pin perhaps or a slack ridge rope—and then he would open up in an ordinary conversational tone. But the utterances he gave vent to were sulphurous. It always took Fuller a good five minutes to work off what he considered the necessary number of remarks on such occasions, and it always seemed, when he was through, that he had quite exhausted the whole vocabulary of profanity. But this was a mistake. The very next time anything went wrong with a bit of Fuller's gear he would start in on a new line that would contain absolutely not a single repetition of any of his previous performances. It was always a source of wonder to Fuller's shipmates, even the old timers, where he picked up the new ones, all of which were of startling originality and force.

These shipmates related only one instance in which he found himself at a loss for words. He was with a landing party from his ship, marching on the outskirts of Chemulpo, Korea. He stubbed his toe on a loose bowlder in the road and fell on his face in the dust. He picked himself up and looked at the road. He opened his mouth to say something, but he had no words. He was dumb with wrath. Two or three times he attempted to begin, but it was no go. He was stuck for once, so he pulled out a pistol and deliberately fired it into the air five times. He had to express his feelings in some way.

When Fuller was serving aboard Watson's ship, he was in good shape, and his frequent quiet outbursts kept the forward part of the ship keyed up with wonder as to what was coming next. One morning at big gun drill Captain Watson himself was superintending the exercise. One of the wooden cartridges became jammed in the breach of the 6 inch rifle to which he was devoting most of his attention. He wouldn't permit any of the gunner's mates around him to attempt to loosen the cartridge, but essayed the job himself. He tugged at the jammed cartridge and broke his finger nails over it, and still it wouldn't come out. It was a pretty hot morning on deck, and the perspiration began to roll off his face in streams, but he persisted in trying to loosen the stuck cartridge. He looked as if he would like to say a heap were he a swearing man, but he wasn't a swearing man. When he had been working for five minutes over the jammed cartridge with no success, he looked pretty helpless and miserable. He gave one final tug, but the stuck cartridge remained in the gun's breach. The skipper gathered himself together, mopped his forehead and looked at the gun.

"Confound it all," he broke out, "where's Fuller? Send me Fuller, somebody."

Fuller was on hand directly. He wasn't a gunner's mate, and he had nothing to do with the guns, but Watson wanted Fuller to tackle the jammed cartridge all the same.

"Fuller," said Watson, "try and get that dummy out of that gun."

Fuller looked at the stuck cartridge, and Watson retreated to the starboard side of the quarter deck. Fuller made two or three claws at the wooden cartridge, but it wouldn't come out. A gunner's mate could have got it out in a jiffy, but Fuller wasn't in that line of the service. He tugged away, but it was no go. Watson stood regarding the horizon on the starboard side of the quarter deck. Fuller spat on his hands and made one more try. The dummy didn't move a tenth of an inch. Then Fuller mopped his forehead with his neckerchief, clapped his cap on the back of his head and opened up. It was great work, this performance of Fuller's, and no mistake. He eclipsed all of his former efforts. He stood with his hands on his sides, looking at the gun breach and saying things at it that no Morgan or Kidd or Tench or other heaven defying pirate could ever have equalled. The men stood around, just looking at Fuller in open mouthed amazement. They couldn't make out where he got them all. They were all in English, but the combinations were weird. The perspiration was frightful, although delivered in the mildest tone imaginable.

When Fuller finished, he mopped his forehead with his neckerchief again and walked over to his commanding officer, who was looking over the starboard rail, apparently thinking deeply. Fuller saluted.

"It's stuck proper, sir," said Fuller. "I can't get it adrift."

Weather Report.

Following is the University meteorological report received from the U. S. Observer, San Francisco: Thursday generally fair.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEVADA.

A Challenge to Republican Leaders to Prove their Assertions.

The Republican Party of Nevada at its convention held in Reno, September 18, 1898, issued a platform or declaration of Principles, which as honorable men they are bound to defend.

Among other statements made is the charge of mismanagement of the Hospital for Mental Diseases. This I denounce as an outrageous misstatement, and hereby challenge any Republican leader to meet me in joint discussion before the people, at various points in the State, there to substantiate the above charge or enable me to prove its falsity.

And I particularly issue this challenge to A. C. Bragg, Chairman of the Committee on Platform of said Convention, and a candidate for office on the Republican ticket, arch enemy of the Reno Evening Gazette, who for a number of years past has through the columns of his paper, been endeavoring to establish mismanagement at the hospital, the undoubted author of the above charge.

And to G. H. Thome, who as chairman of the Washoe County committee on Platform, not content to endorse the above in endorsing the State Platform, reiterates the above falsehood in specific terms.

Who is G. H. Thome? He is the physician who preceded me in charge of the Nevada Insane Asylum, whose mistreatment of the patients was of so outrageous a character that respect for the citizens of the State forbade my stating the facts in my last biennial report, Vice President of the Reno Gazette Publishing Company and standing candidate for the superintendency of the Nevada Hospital for Mental Diseases.

A political party must indeed be at a low ebb, when it finds it necessary to falsely assail the public charities of the State to bolster up its fallen fortunes and permits its party machinery to be used by disappointed office seekers to gratify personal malice.

Respectfully

H. BRAGG.

Superintendent of Nevada Hospital for Mental Diseases.
Reno, Sept. 23, 1898.

(Silver Party papers please copy.)

CARSON HOME RULERS.

Not One of Them Own a Foot of Nevada Soil.

The Republican nominees for the Legislature in Ormsby county publish a card in which they announce that they are against the reelection of Senator Stewart. Their pretext for opposing Senator Stewart is that he is not a bona fide resident, but the real cause is doubtless Hanna's sack. The Appeal says Senator Stewart has paid more for improvements in Carson than the whole Republican legislative ticket combined. Their entire ticket pays no taxes on real estate and the four men who sign the card pay taxes on only $650 personal property in Ormsby county, and one of the names appended represents a person who has been barely long enough in the State to acquire a residence.

That is "home rule" with a vengeance. A man may be a good citizen and through no fault of his not own any assessable property in the State, but when such men raise the question of non-resident and non-taxpayer against a candidate, if the facts put them in any unenviable light, they have only themselves to blame.

To show the hollowness, the mockery, of this home rule cry, it is only necessary to refer to the actions of one of the State conventions recently held in this city. A home rule platform was adopted and immediately afterwards a gentleman was nominated for Congress who declined the honor on the ground that he had not been a resident of the State long enough to be a voter. Nevada needs more people and this hypocritical howl of "Nevada for Nevadans" in a State that probably has less than 10,000 voters, is simply disgusting.

Called to Other Fields of Labor

Rev. F. C. Lee and family took the train for San Francisco last evening, where Mr. Lee has been transferred and placed in charge of the M. E. Church on the corner of California and Broderick streets. While Mr. Lee's many friends in Reno regretted the departure of himself and family, they were glad to know that he had secured a larger field for his work and one in which he will no doubt succeed. Mr. Lee has accomplished much good work since he has lived in Reno. He is an energetic man and a minister who succeeds in making friends, for he immediately becomes one of the people entering into the general affairs of a community and taking a lively interest in all that concerns the general public. He is a man of good business judgment and tact, and has had a wide experience to aid him in solving the many problems of life. That he will succeed in his new home the JOURNAL has no doubt and its best wishes go with him.

DANGEROUS ADVICE.

Bankers Advancing Measures that Would Intensely Famine.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The bankers have been holding meetings in a number of cities throughout the United States and they seem to be agreed that the gold standard should prevail and that the Government should go out of the banking business and allow the banks to issue the entire volume of paper money.

Mr. Editor, let us see if the banks are not advocating a measure that will result in their downfall and the ruin of their depositors. The total supply of gold money in the United States is estimated at about $750,000,000, about equally divided between the banks, the U. S. Treasury and the people. The banks already owe depositors nearly five billion dollars, about twenty times the amount of gold which they possess and if they issue the paper money of the country it makes an additional demand liability against their stock of gold and would intensify any monetary panic which might occur.

A very heavy strain on our stock of gold, in addition to which the banks desire to place upon it, is the stocks and bonds which allens hold against property in the United States. Any little impairment of confidence abroad always results in the sale of American securities by the foreigners and, of course, the banks would have to furnish the gold for export. Heavy withdrawals of gold for export would weaken confidence among depositors at home and the depositors and bill holders would also make a raid on the gold reserve of the banks, the supply would soon be exhausted, the demand would be twenty times greater than the supply and the banks would be obliged to suspend gold payments before they had redeemed five per cent of their obligations.

We might mention numerous other items, like the $6,000,000,000 of real estate mortgages, the $5,500,000,000 of railroad bonds, the $3,000,000,000 of chattel mortgages and trust deeds, and the untold amount of unsecured promises to pay that would increase the strain on the gold standard, but we think we have shown enough to prove beyond a doubt that when the banks advocate the gold standard, and a bank paper currency redeemable in gold, they are advocating measures that will work their downfall and will carry wide spread ruin to creditors as well as debtors.

Election of Officers.

The semi-annual election of officers of the Reno Wheelmen's Club took place last evening. The meeting was largely attended and much interest was manifested. The officers-elect for the ensuing term are as follows:

President, W. W. Webster; Vice President, W. H. Molnais; Secretary, J. M. Gray; Treasurer, W. T. Perkins; Board of Trustees, Rev. F. V. Jones, Gus Koppe, S. P. Reeves, F. M. Schaefer, John Shaver; Racing Board, Sam Mozingo, Chas. Becker, Dr. C. A. Coffin; Board of Governors, W. T. Perkins, E. E. Worden, F. M. Schaefer; Captain of Racing Team, Geo. Fahrion; Entertainment Committee, B. O. Shearer, E. F. Currier and F. V. Jones.

The club membership roll now numbers 225 and the club is constantly growing and it is believed it will reach three hundred before the first of the year as the advantages to be enjoyed from the Winter season's social events will be a great attraction for new members.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes H. O. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

At 1 o'clock this morning there were indications of a heavy frost occurring before daylight.

TRAVEL PAY OF SOLDIERS.

Billings of the Assistant Controller of the Treasury.

The Assistant Controller of the Treasury has made some important rulings regarding the travel pay of volunteers. The Controller holds that soldiers are entitled to travel pay from the place of discharge to the place of enlistment and also if the soldier is discharged on furlough, except in cases where the distance is greater than the distance from where the soldier is camped to the point of enlistment. In that case he is entitled to travel pay only from the point where his regiment was stationed to the place of enlistment.

Officers and soldiers discharged at their own request are not entitled to travel pay, but where an officer or soldier resigns or is discharged on account of sickness or wounds he is entitled to travel allowance. It is also held that discharge or resignation takes place only from the date on which the officer or soldier receives a furlough. An officer or soldier is discharged he is entitled to travel allowance and not mileage, and officers on waiting orders are entitled to full pay.

TROOPERS ON FURLOUGH.

Sergeant Coryell and Bert Harris Visiting Their Nevada Homes.

Paul Coryell and Bert Harris of Troop M, Second United States Volunteer Cavalry, arrived from Jacksonville, Florida, on this morning's train. The former has a furlough for thirty days and will report at Benicia, from where he will be sent to St. Augustine, Florida. From there the regiment will embark with General Lee's division on October 10th for Cuba.

Torrey's regiment, to which Troop M is attached, is not included in those ordered mustered out and the troopers will therefore be required to serve the two years' term of their enlistment.

Sergeant Coryell says that when he left camp six days ago only 250 men out of the 1080 composing Torrey's regiment were fit for duty. The only drawback to camp life Coryell mentioned is the poor cooking of rations, the quality of which he says is good.

The furloughed men in Troop M had free transportation furnished them from Camp Cuba Libre in Pullman cars to their homes and are allowed $1.50 a day each to purchase food.

PLATFORM.
The Silver Party of Nevada pledges its unwavering devotion to the principles of government laid down by Jefferson and Lincoln. That the highest duty of government is to regulate its laws that the spirit of equity shall follow men through life, giving each man the opportunity to work out to the fullest measure his possibilities unrestricted by law, and unhampered by the conquest of his domain by the demands of the American people in consonance with the foregoing platform of the National Silver party formulated at St. Louis July 23, 1896 and the financial plank of the National Democratic party adopted at Chicago July 7, 1896.

The history of the movement for the restoration of bimetalism is the glorious story of Nevada's leadership. The educational work so patriotically undertaken six years ago has spread throughout the entire country. On the issue that the value of money is quantitative and not qualitative is the intellectual and political forces of nations are now battling. Mindful of her glorious record Nevada will take her place again in the conflict not as the ally of gold but on the side of those who struggle in the fields of adversity.

We reaffirm our devotion to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by the independent action of the United States, and we are unalterably opposed to the Republican policy of increasing the bonded debt and transferring the sovereign power of the government to issue money to banking institutions of contracting the circulating medium to the single gold standard and of increasing taxation while contraction is diminishing the means of payment.

age of both gold and silver, that it holds to this principle as a tenet of party faith and a test of party allegiance, that it will permit of no abandonment or modification of this doctrine, that let whosoever prove recreant to the principle of bimetalism it will remain steadfast thereto.

And who on May 9, 1896, at Virginia City, declared as follows:
"We again reiterate our steadfast devotion to the cause of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and declare that in our judgment the restoration of the true bimetallic standard of value as it existed previous to 1873, namely, at the ratio of 16 to 1, is an absolute and indispensable requirement before the financial system of our government will afford the people a value of stable circulating money sufficient to place the business of the country on a permanently prosperous basis."

We endorse the action of Nevada's representatives with respect to tariff and financial legislation commending their patriotic support of the administration in time of war, whilst using all efforts to prevent the issuance of bonds.

We say to the Republican party of Nevada: Do not the beneficent results of the tariff schedule of the Dingley bill which affect Nevada, and which Nevada's Silver representatives secured, namely wool, cattle, hides, cyanide, and borax, fall upon you as the rain falls upon the just and the unjust? And if so, in what manner could Republican Representatives have done more?

We say to the Democratic party of Nevada: Has not the action of Nevada's Representatives on financial legislation been in keeping with the Democratic platform of 1896, and in this respect, could Democratic Representatives have done more?

We express our profound appreciation of the tireless efforts of Nevada's grand old man, Wm. M. Stewart, not only as the leader of the silver cause in America but for his great devotion to the local interests of the State as evidenced by the fact that he has been the author of many of the important measures affecting Nevada's interests which have been enacted by Congress, namely, the mining laws of the United States, the Carson Mine, the Agricultural Experiment Station which on behalf the State University to receive $40,000 a year Government aid and the securing of a military instructor at the State University.

We further commend his efforts, now likely soon to be crowned with success, to secure the payment to the State and citizens of Nevada of nearly half a million dollars for moneys expended in the suppression of the war of the rebellion, and Indian outbreaks. We endorse his proposal to secure legislation making Lake Tahoe and vicinity a national park, which will guarantee the farmers along the Truckee river more water for irrigation and enable a vast additional area of arid land to be brought under cultivation.

We earnestly commend the re-election of Wm. M. Stewart to the Senate of the United States and pledge the Silver party of Nevada and the nominees of this convention to his support for that office.

To our other Senator, John P. Jones we extend the greeting of a people who rejoice that they have such a great public servant who has honored the commonwealth which has do lighted to honor him. His pre-eminent knowledge of all financial questions has been used by him for the benefit of the whole world, and his speeches in the United States Senate upon the silver question have become the text book of those statesmen who are devoted to the interests of the whole people.

We take pride in the career of Francis G. Newlands in Congress, notably in the fact that he has risen to a place among the leaders of the House and that his influence in public affairs is becoming more and more manifest as is shown by his great part in the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands a consummation anticipated and desired by American people for more than fifty years. We do declare that Nevada cannot afford to lose him as her Representative in the halls of Congress.
